Terminal Degree information:

- A faculty member may hold a terminal degree outside of the discipline in which they teach. For example, someone may hold a Ph.D. in English, but teach in the College of Business using the SACS qualifications of their MBA. These occasions are ignored for the purposes of this quick report.

- A faculty member may obtain a terminal degree and if it is not sent to Faculty Affairs, the degree information may be stale.

- It is possible to hold multiple degrees, but only one may be listed in the system as "highest."

- Terminal degree status may fluctuate; certain disciplines, such as Social Work, are moving from MSW to DSW as the terminal degree.
